

CENTENNIAL SERIES

Craftmanship and elegant form define the allure and luxury of this traditional design

CENTENNIAL (COX) SERIES

When you think about a 'Traditional' Kitchen you are envisioning what still remains the most popular design in the US today. Each detail is a tribute to traditions and treasures passed down from one generation to the next. This kitchen displays a sense of history and fundamentally portrays a luxurious elegance.

Traditional kitchens remain desirable because they are calm, familiar and work for every demographic. The Centennial sink brings graceful shapes and fixtures with a curvaceous contour; a traditional design that is functional and creates an inviting atmosphere.

The new Franke Centennial sink is all of this and more. Just as traditional design is defined: the edges are soft, smooth and blend into the whole.

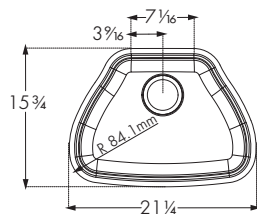

The Centennial is the very first Franke sink that was conceptually designed from beginning to end in the United States, yet still manufactured in Aarburg, Switzerland. The purpose was to capture the essence of the US home owner. In our Centennial year it is only fitting that we commemorate the classic 'D-bowl', with a redefinition of this traditionally styled bowl.

The updated version of this traditional sink brings classic lines and architecture coupled with the undeniable luxury, functionality and quality that people have come to expect from Franke.
